NEWS AND COMMENTS.

MR. J. C. BUXTON, of Winston, is being prominently mentioned for Lieutenant-Governor of North Carolina. The question is: Would he accept?

COLONEL L. L. POLK'S "pictur" embellishes a page of a recent number of the Arena. Who was it that woke up one morning some seventy-five or one hundred years ago, and "found himself famous?"

THE excellent and enterprising Wilmington Star is about to issue a newspaper business directory of its city, which will have a circulation of 10,000 copies, and will of course be of great benefit and advantage to the merchants of Wilmington.

MR. C. R. OLIVER, one of the editors of the Reidsville Review, died on the 4th inst., after a long illness. The announcement is made that Mr. R. J OLIVER, his brother, succeeds to his interest in the proprietorship and editorial management of the Review.

ALTHOUGH nearly two months are yet to elapse the faculty of Salem Female Academy are busily engaged in the preparation of the programme for the celebration of its 89th anniversary. It is a grand old school, and its commencement is a big thing, requiring a good margin of time.

IN New York City the other day—after "the bird had flown," after the "horse was gone"—a large banking firm discovered that their trusted bookkeeper, a lad of 19 years, had transferred $57,000 from their safe to his pocket, and was at that moment "riding the briny deep" on a steamer bound for Ostend. How would he do for the "Napoleon of finance?"

"CAN he deliver the goods?" This is a significant, incisive question asked of a man who goes about telling what he is going to do, and what he is going to make others do—especially asked of politicians who pledge their following (which they claim to have) to a certain line of conduct. It "makes us tired" to see the political demagogues now peregrinating the country, and "selling by sample." What a lot of "goods" there are which will not be "delivered!"

THE Southern Colony in New York is just at this time mightily stirred up over a quarrel between the friends of Mrs. WISE, wife of JOHN S. WISE, Republican and ex-Congressman, and of Miss GREENE, a beautiful belle of Richmond, Va. Col. SKINNER, grandfather of Miss GREENE, an old Confederate warhorse, declares that if Mrs. WISE does not apologize for an insult offered to his lovely granddaughter Mr. WISE must fight—but the latter conveniently remembers that he has always been opposed to dueling on principle.

"THE commissioners of Mecklenburg county grant a liquor license to THOS. J. WILSON. He is a member of the Methodist church, and on Monday night was turned out of his church for applying for the license." Yes, after a hard, bitter fight he secured his license to retail intoxicating liquors in Charlotte. He lost his place in the church, and forfeited the esteem of his fellow-members—but he got his license. Since the granting of the first license we learn that as many as three others have been granted, all of which will combine to establish the power and ability of the commissioners of Charlotte to manage their own affairs independent of outside influences.

"Is murder a crime?" The New York Herald is asking this question, and really the query seems pertinent at the present time. The wretch taken red-handed is the cynosure of all eyes from the time of his capture, through imprisonment, to the dock and his final sentence. Every effort of legal skill is put forth in his behalf from the plea of self-defence to that of "emotional insanity"—and, finally, the witnesses who deposed to his taking the life of a fellowman, the solicitor who prosecuted him for the deed, the jury who brought in a verdict of condemnation, and the judge who pronounced his doom, face about, and petition the pardoning power that all this machinery of the courts shall have been put in motion for naught, and that the felon shall go "unwhipt of justice." Is murder a crime?

JEALOUS of the fair name and fame of the State University, at Chapel Hill, and zealous in his efforts for the promotion of the success of that time-honored institution—of which North Carolina is so justly proud—President WINSTON has secured the services of the Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE, of Kentucky—at present United States Senator from the "Blue Grass State"—to deliver the annual oration before the graduating class at the approaching commencement in June. Senator CARLISLE is a broad-guaged statesman and ranks to-day among the greatest men of modern times, and in the selection of one so accomplished and thoroughly equipped for such a task, President WINSTON has displayed that wisdom and sagacity with which his administration as President of the University has been characterized from the beginning.

THE trick, or dodge, of the Republicans of the 6th Congressional district in convention assembled at Rockingham last week, in their endorsement of the free and unlimited coinage of silver is so palpably false and transparent on its face that we are unwilling to believe any one at all familiar with the history of the rotten-borough-radical party on silver legislation will become ensnared into the meshes of their net of deception—for deception it was in the most glaring form. But then a "drowning man will grab at a straw," and the Republicans of one district, at all events, are evidently not totally oblivious to the fact that their party, with its four years of reckless extravagance in the wholesale expenditure and squandering of the people's money, oppressive and burdensome taxes, force bills, Czar rule and McKinley tariffs, has little to go before the people on, asking their suffrages for the return to power of a party that has given birth to more trusts and combines for enslaving and robbing one class of people to enrich another than all other administrations since the inauguration of GEO. WASHINGTON as first President of the United States.

SINCE OUR LAST ISSUE.

Latest News from all Parts of the World, Prepared Especially for the Readers of "The Observer."

Rev. Dr. Payne, of Concord, will preach the baccalaureate sermon at Peace Institute May 29th. Dr. Dinwiddie, of Virginia, who took charge of the Institute a year ago, has been remarkably successful. ——The cutting of gem stones for exhibition by the State at the World's Fair is now in progress, and some splendid specimens already cut have been secured by the Agricultural Department. North Carolina's display will cost $50,000, and there are the best reasons for belief that it will equal that of some States which will spend twice the amount of money. ——John Boyd, negro, charged with wrecking the Western N. C. train at Bostian bridge and who escaped from jail was recaptured at Union, S. C. ——The semi-centennial of St. Mary's of Raleigh, a widely-known female college, will be observed in June. There will be an attendance of alumnæ from every State in the South. The college is one of the oldest in the State. ——At the cemetery at Weldon the horrible discovery was made that several graves had been torn to pieces and the slabs scattered about. One or two headstones had been broken, and the grave desecrators left every evidence behind that they were possessed of many demons. The authorities are making efforts to capture them. ——Hon. Willard Saulsbury, Chancellor of the State of Delaware since 1874, and United States Senator from 1859 to 1871, died at his residence at Dover of apoplexy. ——The Georgia Lumbermen's Association met on the 4th inst., and organized a lumberman's exchange, which is in reality a gigantic trust, to have its headquarters in Macon. Forty-five of the most prominent milling interests in the State and $29,000,000 of invested capital were represented. ——The Congressional Committee investigating the World's Fair management has discovered that President Baker's estimate of the cost of the buildings at $4,692,724 too small. Instead of being $10,853,150 the cost will be $15,300,000. ——Senator Morgan's silver amendment instructs the committee on finance to report an amendment to the silver act of 1890, "which shall provide for the coinage of gold and silver bullion on equal terms, as to each metal, and for the issue of Treasury notes in denominations not to exceed $500 and upon the terms and conditions prescribed in said act upon all gold and silver bullion that the United States shall acquire by purchase, and that every depositor who shall deposit in the Treasury gold or silver bullion in quantities of not less than one hundred dollars in value, the product of mines in the United States, which has not been previously coined, shall at his option receive coin certificates for the same at the usual value of such bullion." ——An immense tobacco factory in Havana was burned on the 4th inst. The loss is very heavy. The factory was in full operation when the fire occurred, and the escape of the employees by way of stairs being cut off, many of them jumped from the windows. Twenty-nine persons received painful injuries in this way. Those who did not jump were rescued through the efforts of persons on the outside. ——A serious dispute between Spain and the United States is threatened because of the latter's appointing Mr. H. Rand as consul at Ponapi. Mr. Rand is a brother of a missionary who was leader of the Methodists accused of causing the trouble between the natives of the Caroline Islands and the Spanish authorities. The United States refuses to withdraw his appointment, and Spain refuses to grant him an exequatur. ——Seven people lost their lives in a fire which broke out in the store of McIntosh & Pease at Fort Madison, Ia. The building was consumed, and the family of S. V. Kitchen, living up stairs, seven in all, were burned to death. An explosion of gunpowder prevented their escape. The sight after the catastrophe was a horrible one. ——A terrific cyclone struck Orlean, N. Y., wrecking ten houses and a church. One woman was killed and a number of people seriously injured. There were sixteen people in the church, which was lifted from its foundation and carried twenty feet away. ——The Supreme Court has filed a decision in a very important case. It is a case which came up from Mecklenburg county. A bar-keeper employed by a hotel-keeper sold liquor to minors, and the hotel-keeper was charged with violating the law. He was convicted and appealed. The Supreme Court decides that he is guilty. The important point is made in the opinion that where a man employs another who sells liquor to a minor, even during his absence, it is considered the act of the principal. ——There is quite a sensation in Hyde county over the elopement of the widow Mason with a worthless married man named Paul. Mrs. Mason has been a widow three years and is the mother of five children, the youngest about five years old. She has one married son, who lives near by. Paul has been making frequent visits to the house of Mrs. Mason for the last six months, but there was not even a suspicion as to her chastity. She was held in the highest esteem by her neighbors. Before she left a note was written and addressed to her son, which reads: I am gone. Take care of the children." Mrs. Mason furnished horse and buggy and hurriedly left the county with the bigamist by her side. Their whereabouts are unknown. ——The Democratic Executive Committee met on the 7th inst. in special session. There was a remarkably large attendance, and great unanimity of spirit was manifested. Ellington, dated March 20th, as setting forth the proper and true test as to who shall be entitled to participate in the township primaries and conventions of the Democratic party in North Carolina, and that we heartily commend the manly utterances of that letter to the Democracy of this State. ——The Republican congressional convention of the 6th district met at Rockingham, on the 7th inst., and closed in a general row. The Brady faction from Mecklenburg was recognized in exclusion to the Gordon faction, which caused the trouble. Gordon said he and his followers would remain in the court-house "until hell froze over and then stand on the ice." Everything was confusion. The Brady faction retired and nominated J. P. Lockey of New Hanover, for Congress, and elected J. H. Young and A. Brady as delegates to the National Convention. The Gordon faction nominated A. M. Long of Richmond, for Congress, and elected J. M. Smith and J. W. Gordon as delegates to the National Convention. —— At Freiburg, Germany, a family of eight persons were burned to death in the destruction of their home.

Greenland once Tropical.

St. Louis Globe Democrat.]

Greenland was not always a wilderness of ice. Its rocks have preserved in their strata the story of a time when the island—if such it is, and not a continent—was covered with luxuriant forest of palm and other trees peculiar to the torrid zone. In these primeval goods the smilax and many climbing vines festooned the branches. In short, the climate and the plants which it fostered were such as are now found in the latitude of Egypt. Giant ferns, sequoias and exaggerated mosses covered the land. Their remains are discovered at this day in extensive coal beds toward the north.

That Greenland was once upon a time a tropical country has long been known. What causes its change of climate is to some extent a puzzle to geologists. We know that the United States as far south as Philadelphia and St. Louis was during a comparatively recent period covered with ice. Many authorities are of the opinion, which appears to prevail, that such wonderful alterations have been effected by a shifting of the axis of the earth. Not so very many centuries before history began, although no one can estimate the period accurately, Arctic glaciers spread over Europe. During that epoch herds of reindeer wandered over France and Germany, and the men who lived then fed upon them, and carved out of their horns artistic implements, which can be seen in museums now. Thus, while Greenland was once a tropical country, we know that the Arctic at one time spread as far as the Mediterranean, and the remains of the polar flora and frauna are yet discovered in Southern Europe. It is even thought that the Esquimo are very probably the descendants of the people of the early stone age whose bones are dug out of the ancient river drift.

Take Time.

The common mistake of the young is that they count too much upon genius and chance. They have heard that Napoleon overran Italy at twenty seven, and William Pitt was Prime Minister at twenty-four years of age, or they have fallen into the habit of waiting for something to turn up. But the greatest geniuses, in art, in literature, in science, in war, and in statesmanship, have been men of indomitable industry; and, as for chance, the least likely thing to turn up in age is the lost opportunity of youth. The seed of future greatness is sown in darkness. The young man who is destined to win the world's applause is hidden now in silent preparation. He knows that if he understands his subject better than anybody else, or if he can do a certain kind of work better than anybody else, there can be no doubt at all about the ultimate recognition of his superiority. There is no element of chance in a calculation of that sort. The critics, when they conspire to that end, may occasionally puff a nobody into a fleeting, factitious celebrity, but will strive in vain to write down the man who comes before the public with something really well done. If the critics carried the fate of authors or artists in their hands, they would have crushed Byron and Leats, Wordsworth and Browning, Rosetti and Millet. If the workman is his own critic, if he has an eye to his own faults, if he compares his work with his ideal rather than with the poor performance of his inferiors, there is no other critic of whom he need be afraid.

Largest Olive Orchard in the World.

The largest olive orchard in the world belongs to Mr. Ellwood Cooper of Santa Barbara county, California. Mr. Cooper purchased the land occupied by this mammoth grove of Oriental trees away back in 1871, the entire orchard, including the portions of it which are devoted to the culture of English walnuts, Japanese persimmons, almonds, etc., comprising 1,700 acres. The orchard now has 10,000 olive trees. 8,000 in full bearing, the remainder being young trees set out during the past year and a half. Besides the olive trees, there are 3,000 English walnut trees, 4,500 Japanese persimmon trees, 10,000 almond trees and about 4,000 other fruit and nut trees. The 10,000 olive trees yielded 40,000 quart bottles of olive oil last year, which found a ready market at $1.25 per bottle; the nut trees bore thousands of bushels of nuts, to say nothing of the Japanese persimmons. Taken all in all, it has been calculated that Mr. Cooper's orchard brings an income of not less than $800 per acre every year.

The Vatican.

Ashton (Eng.) Reporter.]

The Vatican, the ancient palace of the Popes of Rome, is the most magnificent building of the kind in the world. It stands on the right bank of the Tiber, on a hill called the Vaticanus, because the Latins formerly worshiped Vaticinium, an ancient oracular deity, at that place. Exactly when the building was commenced no one knows. Charlemagne is known to have inhabited it over a thousands years ago. The present extent of the building is enormous, the number of rooms, at the lowest computation, being 4,422. Its treasures of marble statues, ancient gems, paintings, books, manuscripts, ect., are to be compared only with those in the British Meseum. The length of the statue museum alone is a fraction over a mile. Conservative writers say that the gold contains in the medals, vessels, chains and others objects preserved in the Vatican would make more gold coins than the whole of the present European circulation.

A Natural Inquiry.

There were only two people in the saloon at that hour besides the white apron behind the bar. One of them was three-fourths drunk and four-fifths asleep in the corner, and the other, with a blistering red nose, was pacing up and down the sawdust in front of him. He followed the movements of the walker with half open, unsteady eyes for nearly half an hour and then he called the barkeeper.

"I shay, barkeep," he muttered as that gentleman came over. "I shay."

"Well, what is it, drunkie?" inquired the barkeeper pleasantly.

"I shay, how longsh thash torsh light p'chushun goin' t' be marshin' through here? I wan' t' go t' shleep."

Not that kind of Measure.

Detroit Free Press.]

It was her first essay at marketing, but she tackled the work with the beautiful hardihood of youth and inexperience.

"Have you canvas back ducks?" she inquired of the man in the stall.

"Yes, miss, and they are beauties and mighty scarce at this time of year. Ah! I've got mallards and red heads, too."

"You may cut me off three quarters of a yard of the canvas back," she said, in her clear, classic tones; "and cut it diagonally so that it will not ravel."

LIFE IN THE NAVY.

How Officers "Keep House" On Men-Of-War.—, That is Required.

New York Tribune.]

Our Government gives to the naval officer only the salary that is fixed by Congress, and from this salary he must not only furnish and keep himself suplied with the half dozen patterns of uniform prescribed by the Navey regulations, but he must also be able always to prsent a decent appearance in civilian clothes when on shore on duty; he must also provide himself with the necessary bed linen and bed clothing for his stateroom on board ship; also to pay his proportion of mess expenses on board ship, which are increased considerably by the entertainment at luncheon and dinners of officials at home or abroad, especially in the furnishing of wine; and if he is so unfortunate as to have a wife and children he must provide for their support on shore. The officers' mess on board ship is a sort of co-operative housekeeping. But it seems absolutely mysterious to an ordinary civilian how it is that an officer of the rank of lieutentant, one who has been in the service twenty-eight or thirty years, as many of them have, and receives only $2600 a year when at sea and $2200 when on shore, manages to maintain the degree of "style" that he must do.

There is just as much system in naval housekeeping as there is in the daily routine of drills; in fact there is no other living embodiment of system that can compare with that of the Navy officer. In the organization of the ward-room officers' mess on board ship each member is assessed a certain amount, generally about $40 a month, and this goes into the the mess fune, of which one of the officers who is elected as caterer, has charge. The caterer arranges for the daily bill of fare, and instructs the steward just how much he may spend when he goes ashore in the market boat in the morning for the supplies. The tableware if furnished by the Government, but all breakages are charged against the mess. Then, too, the cost of wine for personal use as well as for the entertainment of guests is an extra expense from that of the regular mess. And in the ward-room mess there are officers of the rank of lieutenant who do not receive a salary within $600 of that of the lieutenant of more than ten years' service.

The uniforms as at present prescribed are special full dress, full dress, social full dress, dress, undress and servi e dress. Then there are the chapeau, costing about $30; the epaulets, costing about $60; shoulder straps, costing from $6 to $10; the cap, waistcoat, black silk, cravat, gloves, sword and sword-belt, sleeve ornaments and the summer or tropical sutis, including helmet. The entire suit of uni forms will not cost less that $500 or $600.

Wild Mustangs in Pennsylvania

Philadelphia Record.]

On Black's Island, five miles from the City of Philadelphia, on the Delaware River, are a drove of eighty or more untamed mustangs, not one of which has ever been shod or touched with a strap of harness. The island is a bleak waste of meadow land, covered by a heavy growth of thick grass. Here the mustangs live, as wild and uncared for as though on the Western plains. The horses are owned by Messrs. Richard and Lewis Wistar, two wealthy and eccentric Philadelphians. In 1873 they took a couple of Chincoteague mares up from the South and placed them on Black's farm, just below Fort Mifflin. Both the mares were in foal, and they were turned out on the island and allowed to run wild. From that beginning the herd has increased as stated.

The ponies are at perfect liberity all the year round, and are without shelter in winter as well as summer. In fact, they are to all intents and purposes, as wild as the wildest mustangs in the West. The colts are foaled without shelter of any kind, and grow up strong, rugged and as wild as though hundreds of miles from civilization. During the winter, when the ground is covered with snow, the horses are obliged to paw holes in the snow in order to get at the dead grass underneath. After the manner of wild horses they divide themselves into smaller herds, each having a stallion for a leader. There appears to be a rivalry between these herds, and royal battles are waged between the stallions. In color the horses are mostly bays, creams and piebalds, and range grom fifteen hands. Although the Wistar brothers have not visited the island for thirteen years, they steadily refuse to part with any of the ponies under any consideration.

Kentucky Girls.

"If there be an aristocracy in America," said J. E. Parish, of Versailles, Ky., to a St. Louis Globe-Democrat reporter, "it is in the blue grass region of Kentucky. A person who has never made an extended visit to that section has no conception of the delights of country life in America. In the West and North the people are gradually flocking to the towns and cities because of the hardships of rural life. But this is not true of the blue grass region. There are no big cities there. All our people want is a postoffice and a store in which to make their purchases. They live on their ancestral estates like English dukes and princes. The country is so traversed by turnpikes, which are superior to your city paved streets, that the problem of transportation of their farm products to market is reduced to the minimum, and neighborhoods are brought into close and inimate touch.

"As to our women—well, you know they are famed as the most beautiful in this country. The prettiest are to be found in the rural districts, and their accomplishments and graces are superior to those of your city belles. Fine horsewomen they all are, and they make the best wives in America. Their outdoor life imparts to them a glow and freshness that make them the most attractive women in the world, and their education fits them to shed lustre on any society of this country or Europe. But withal they are stubbornly practical. They will discuss with you the pedigree and merits of a bull or stallion with the most charming naivete imaginable, and they can manage a fiery throughbred, in the harness or under the saddle, better than your city dude who has taken a long course in an equestrain school. In a word, there are no women like them on the globe, and the fact that the rich men of this country seek them for wives proves it."

PRAIRIE HEROINES.

Mrs. Anna Kimball's Daring Feat of Riding Before a Herd of Stampeding Cattle to save a Man's Life.

St. Louis Globe Democrat.]

There was a heroine of the cattle trail whose name was at one time, back in the seventies, heard in every camp from the Cimarron to the Brazos. Anna Kimball she was named, and she was the wife of a camp manager, one of those characters who took care of the herds, the cooks and the baggage of the cow boys when a great herd was on its travels from the southern ranges to the northern feeding grounds. One day, when a herd of 6,000 cattle was camped near the Salt Fork of the Arkansas, in the Indian Territory she was left alone in camp while the cattle were feeding near by. Suddenly, from some cause never to be explained in a case like that, the herd lifted its thousands of heads and following a few excitable leaders started on a stampede. Such a rush is death to any one in its path, and Mrs. Kimball anxiously looked over the prairie to the north, whither the herd was tending. A few hundred yards ahead of the bellowing beasts there was a white hat showing against the green of the plain. It was one of the herders who had dismounted, and his pony had deserted him. He was directly in the path of the oncoming avalanche of beef. The animals, blinded with their panic, would trample him into the earth without a pause.

Only a moment remained for action. The woman was the only one near the front of the herd. Leaping upon a pony she lashed it forward, passing one rank after another, until she was ahead of the herd, when she dashed directly in their way. Should her horse stumble she, too, would be lost. But the horse did not stumble and Mrs. Kimball came nearer and nearer the man now racing at his best pace toward her. At last, when the thundering host was not more than three rods behind, she leaned far from the saddle and lifting with her suddenly strengthened arm the herder by the waist, she threw him across the neck of her pony and went racing on until they were without the range of the cattle.

It was a deed which few men could have accomplished, and the handsome watch presented her by the men at the end of the drive proved that, hardened as they were, they recognized a brave act.

Among the heroines of the prairie; if space permitted, we might mention women who have taken up claims and defended their rights against all comers. Several instances of this kind of bravery have gained state-wide notoriety, and justly so. They endured hardships and took chances which entitled them not alone to 160 acres of land, but to the best wishes of the whole State in which their lot was cast.

How to Drink a Farm.

Robt. J. Burdette.]

My homeless friend with a chromatic nose, while you are stirring up the sugar in a ten cent glass of gin, let me give you a fact to wash down with it. You may say you have longed for years for the free, independent life of the farmer, but have never been able to get money enough together to buy a farm. But that is just where you are mistaken. For some years you have been drinking a good improved farm at the rate of one hundred square feet a gulf. If you doubt this statement figure it out yourself. An acre of land contains 33,560 square feet. Estimating, for convenience, the land at $43.56 an acre, you will see that it brings the land to just one mill per square foot, one cent for ten square feet. Now pour down the fiery dose and imagine you are swallowing a strawberry-patch. Call in five of your friends and have them help you gulp down that five-hundred foot garden. Get on a prolonged spree some day, and see how long it requires to swallow pasture-land enough to feed a cow. Put down that glass of gin; there is dirt in it—one hundred feet of good, rich, dirt, worth $43.56 per acre.

Mother at Prayer.

Dr. Jno. R. Miller.]

Once I suddenly opened the door of my mother's room and saw her on her knees besides her chair and heard her speak my name in prayer. I quickly and quietly withdrew, with a feeling of awe and reverence in my heart. Soon I went away from home to school, then to college, then into life's sterner duties. But I never forgot that one glimpse of my mother at prayer, nor the one word—my own name—which I heard her utter. Well did I know that what I had seen that day was but a glimps of what was going on every day in that sacred closet of prayer, and the consciousness strengthened me a thousand times in duty, in danger and in struggle. When death came at last and sealed those lips, the sorest sense of loss I felt was the knowldege that no more would my mother be praying for me. In the seventeenth of John we hear Christ praying for us—just once, a few sentences; but we know that this is only sample of the intercession for us that goes on forever. Nothing shall interrupt this pleading; for he ever liveth to intercede.

RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM.

By and through the Democracy of North Carolina, with the aid and advice of the Central Executive Committee in session at Raleigh last week, it was resolved that any transfiguration or sudden change of front of the Democratic principles and policy would not be tolerated for a moment, and the people are in earnest. The lightning's flash of retrenchment and reform to-day illumines the political horizon as never before in a quarter of a century and the people of this country who have been groaning so long and loud under the yoke of oppression and robbery, through trusts and combines for the enrichment of a few at the cost of the masses, are aroused to-day as never before, and in their determination to get relief, with a common cause and one destiny, will give forth no uncertain sound as to their unfaltering allegiance to the toesin of war, in the rapidly approaching conflict for retrenchment and reform all along the lines. It is therefore no time for firebrands to be thrown nor extremists to vent their spleen or to assert their dominion over the councils of the party. The triumph of Democracy and the principles of Jefferson, upon which Democracy is founded, are alike essential to the preservation of our liberties, both civil and political. It is therefore to be a campaign of education and enlightenment, fortified with argument and sustained with fair discussions at every point. But it is no time to follow strange gods over untried and inexperienced paths that may lead us into the wilderness of chaos and defeat or we know not whither. Therefore let those who have followed the unsullied flag of Democracy for twenty-five years and more, with a devotion equalled only by that of the brave followers of the stars and bars with Lee and Jackson and Davis, from Big Bethel to Apomattox court house, remain in line and at the helm of the old Ship of State, with prudence and conservatism, fidelity to principle and the amelioration of the condition of an oppressed and over-burdened people, as the chart by which we are to be guided, by day and by night into the haven of safety lest our barque be stranded and all should go down below the maddened waves of defeat, or by following the example of Sampson in pulling the house down on ourselves. At all times let us remember that "in unity there is strength," and that the Democratic platform is broad enough for us all to comfortably stand thereon.

OBSERVATIONS.

Henrico was the first county in Virginia to select delegates to the State Convention, nine-tenths of whom are "for Hill or a Western man."

Republicans who talk for newspaper interviews are well nigh unanimous and unreserved in their opposition to any fusion with the Third Partyites this year. But talk with those who are running the "blockade," so to speak, and they will chuckle and smile over a third party and its propects.

The number of votes cast in the next Electoral College for President and Vice President will be 444; the Democratic National Convention, however, will have 900 members, not counting the votes of Alaska, and under the two-thirds rule which has heretofore governed National Conventions, it will require 600 votes to nominate any man.

Our thanks are due and hereby tendered State Auditor Sanderlin for a copy of his annual report; likewise the Railroad Commissions for similar favors.

Lord Saulsbury is the recipient of many congratulations upon the peaceful solution of the recent Beahring Sea troubles.

Twelve of the forty-four States in the Union have no Democratic Representatives in Congress at Washington. Remarkable.

Conspicuous among other thing's the late Walt Whitman was a Democrat of the "Old School," and made powerful and stirring speeches for Van Buren and Polk in their days, respectively.

The Daily Democrat, of Beatrice, Neb., announces the death of Col. George B. Everitt in that city on the 18th ult. Col. Everitt was a native of Wayne county, this State, a Republican in politics, but the possessor of a most brilliant intellect and the only man who ever succeeded in, "downing" Bill Wheeler, of Forsyth. In North Carolina, his native State, he was widely known.

The town of Tokio, Japan, was destroyed by fire last Sunday, 6,000 houses going up in smoke, added to which is the loss of at least fifty lives. Thousands of people are thus rendered homeless.

A bloody battle between the Indians and a sheriff's posse in Wyoming Monday resulted in killing 28 of the former and 18 of the latter.

The most obnoxious Republican in Moore county, strange to say, turns out to be the belle-weather of the Third Party movement in that stalwart county of sturdy old Scotch Highlanders. But we have woefully mistaken the farmers of this country if he can "deliver the goods."

The grand rally and mass meeting in Forsyth last Saturday, for the inauguration of the Third Party, turned out to be a colossal failure. The little demogogues were on hand to tell the "dear people" what a panacea the Macune, Polk & Co. party would be for their manifold ills; but the horny-handed sons of toil were equal to the occasion, and remained at home on their farms in the interest of "hog and hominy," leaving this new craze to fall still-born.

Col. Thomas M. Holt for Governor.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., April 13, 1892.

To the Editor of the Fayetteville Observer:

The State Democratic Convention will soon assemble in Raleigh to nominate a full State Ticket. The head of the ticket should be a gentleman in every way qualified to discharge the duties of the high office of Governor of this great State.

I notice the names of several distinguished North Carolinians mentioned for Gubernatorial honors, among which is that of His Excellency T. M. Holt, who has discharged the duties of the position in an able and statesman-like manner, and is a man in every way worthy to be his own successor.

Governor Holt is a true North Carolinian, and has every qualification for the position. He is a manufacturer, merchant and farmer, in all of which departments he has been eminently successful. The established precedent entitles him to the nomination. I hope that he may be the nominee of the convention in May by a unanimous vote. A. B. WILLIAMS.

Manchester Cullings.

Excuse personalities, but charming visitors and industrious housekeepers claim time and attention in and around this hamlet. Last week Mrs. Rhynaes and daughter, of Mississippi, spent a few days with Mrs. M. D. Clarke.

Misses Emma and Jessie Murchison lent an added charm to Holly Hill last week, enhanced by the presence of Mrs. W. J. McDiarmid.

Miss Janie McDiarmid is at home again after an absence of a month spent among relatives.

Misses Katie Underwood and Eliza Williams are guests at the Fairley's to the delight of everybody in town and country.

Mr. Marsh has been out with shipping orders for the thousand barrels of rosin at the depot.

Vegetable and flower gardening stir life's prosiness with their budding efforts.

The dismal croak of the shad frogs keep us reminded we haven't a shad. Oh! for a market. BON AMI.

Three Acres to the Bale.

News and Courier.]

An examination of the preliminary report of cotton production in the United States for the year 1889—90, which was published on Wednesday, shows that 19,566,271 acres yielded 7,452,295 bales—the number of acres required to produce a bale in each State being as follows: Alabama 3, Arkansas 2.4, Florida 4.6, Georgia 2.8, Louisiana 1.9, Mississippi 2.5, North Carolina 3.4, South Carolina 2.6, Tennessee 3.9, Texas 2.3.

The average number of acres required to produce a bale, for the whole South, was 2.87. South Carolina, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Texas all required less than the average number of acres, which, it should be noted, places South Carolina among the more fertile States.

The smallest number of acres to the bale is exhibited by Louisiana, which required only about two acres to the bale as nearly three acres in Georgia and nearly four acres in Florida and Tennessee. The average of 2.87 acres per bale for the whole cotton belt means that the yield is about one-third of a bale per acre. With cotton selling at 7 cents a pound, this means again an average of $12 as the gross returns from cultivating an acre of land in cotton in this country. Out of this must come all the cost of cultivation, picking, ginning, baling, hauling, marketing, interest on supplies, etc., etc., and the rest represents the farmer's profit for all his labor wherewith he laboreth under the sun.

Suits Growing Out of the Bostian Bridge Disaster.

Statesville Landmark.]

The following suits, not heretofore reported, growing out of the Bostian bridge wreck, with the amount of damages asked for, have been entered against the railroad company in Iredell Superior Court: W. P. Coone, administrator of A. Davis, $10,000; J. S. Ramsey, administrator of Rev. J. M. Sikes,——; Naomi H. Moore, injuries, $25,000; R. B. McLaughlin, administrator of Ophelia P. Moore, $50,000; O. W. Lawson, injuries, $10,000; for injuries, was decided in his favor by the Supreme Court last week. He has another case of $500 for loss of baggage, which will probably be compromised.

Suit Against a Judge.

State Chronicle.]

The Code, in order to prevent delays in appeals, provided that if any Judge shall delay to make up the case on appeal, to be sent to the Supreme Court, within sixty days after a circuit is ovor, he is liable to a penalty of $250, to be recovered by any person who shall sue for it. We learn that such an action has been recently brought against one of our Superior court Judges. We believe it is the first case of the kind ever heard of in this State. It is said by his friends that the Judge in the present case has a complete defence by reason of the fact that he was prevented by illness from making up the case in the prescribed time.

The Cases Are Parallel.

Chatham Record.]

A lot of Roman Catholics have as much right to enter a Baptist Association or a Methodist Conference and control its proceedings, as the Third party man to participate in Democratic meetings. If not why not?

MARRIED.

SCULL—PETERSON—At the bride's residence in Cumberland county, N. C., April 7th, 1892, by D. K. McDuffie, Esq., Mr. J. G. SCULL to Miss LIZZIE PETERSON.

Man or Woman, Ghost or Human.

We cannot say what will cure ghosts, but many men and many women who look like ghosts rather than human beings, through sickness, would regain health and happiness, if they would try the virtue of the world-renowned remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Torpid liver, or "biliousness," impure blood, skin eruption, scrofulous sores and swellings, consumption (which is scrofula of the lungs), all yield to this wonderful medicine. It is both tonic and strength-restoring, and alterative or blood-cleansing.

What a debt of gratitude the world owes to such men as Drs. Ayer and Jenner—the latter for the great discovery of vaccination, and the former for his Extract of Sarsaparilla—the best of blood-purifiers! Who can estimate how much these discoveries have benefited the race!

COMMENDABLE.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the California Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually; but it is not a cure-all, and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

THE OBSERVER.

FAYETTEVILLE N. C.

Published Every Thursday at 19 Green Street (Observer Building.)

THURSDAY.....APRIL 14, 1892.

APPOINTMENTS
of Rev. Dr. J. C. Huske.

St. Joseph's Church (Fayetteville)—1st and 2nd Sundays, 11 A. M., of each month.
Rockfish—3rd Sunday, 11 A. M.
St. Thomas Chapel—4th Sunday, 11 A. M.

Third Congressional District Convention.

Clinton has been selected as the place, and July 20th the date, for holding the next Democratic convention for this congressional district.

Wires Between Fayetteville and Rowland.

The telegraph line along the Wilson & Fayetteville Railroad between Fayetteville & Rowland is under rapid construction, and the workmen expect to have the same completed in a few days, and by the first of May the company will doubtless have the line in operation.

How Long?

Just when the Atlantic Coast Line will put on a mail car between here and Rowland has not as yet been decided upon. Meantime let us indulge the hope that this much needed convenience to the community will receive their attention without delay, that relief may be forthcoming at the earliest possible moment.

Superintendent of Health Marsh's Report.

Dr. J. H. Marsh's report as county superintendent of health for the month of March shows only 8 deaths within the corporate limits of the town duriug that time; 3 whites and 5 colored, with 3 of the blacks under five years of age. In the county poor-house there are at present 14 inmates, and 6 prisoners in jail.

Special Rates to the State Convention.

Ever on the alert to give the people the best possible service at the lowest rates, Maj. W. E. Kyle, General Passenger Agent of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R., offers the following round trip ticket rates to parties attending the Democratic State Convention in Raleigh May 18th, proximo: From Fayetteville, $4.40; Maxton, $5.75; Wilmington, $7.05; Greensbore, $4.30; Rural Hall, $5.95.

Memorial Day Notes.

At a recent meeting of the Ladie's Memorial Association of Fayetteville Rev. A. J. McKelway was elected chaplain for the next 10th of May Memorial exercises in this City, with Maj. W. F. Campbell Chief Marshal. We hope to be able to announce the orator of the day in our next issue. Meantime the members of the Association who have not paid their dues are requested to come forward and do so at once, by handing the amount over to Mrs. H. I. McDuffie.

About the Water Works.

By their failure to comply with the contract, to furnish the town of Fayetteville with a first class system of water works in a given time, the National Water Supply & Guarantee Campany of Chicago forfeits its bond of $5,000, to the town, and steps have already been taken by the Mayor and Commissioners to collect the amount at once. Capt. J. D. McNeill, who has been zealous and untiring in his efforts to secure for the town a more thorough system of water works, relaxes none of his efforts in that direction, however, and is now in correspondence with another corporation, looking to the early construction of the plant. Meantime our people will await devolopments.

A Welcome Visitor.

The OBSERVER was delighted to see Rev. David Fairley, of Manchester, in Fayetteville last week, who is just recovering from a severe attack of "grippe." Dr. Fairley is a perfect type of a highland Scotchman of the Caledonian school, and his recent sickness has caused him to miss his church appointments for the first time, he tells us, in nineteen years. To his hundreds of friends all over this country the news of his recovery and final restoration to health will be greeted with profound pleasure and great satisfaction. May he live to fill as many more appointments in the Lord's vineyard on earth before he is called to fill his last and final appointment in the beautiful realms beyond the crystal waters of the great white throne.

Freight and Passenger Depots.

Capt. J. F. Divine and Col. T. M. Emerson, of the Atlantic Coast Line, spent a day or two in Fayetteville the past week, and agreed upon the sites for the new passenger and freight depots of their company in this city. The passenger depot, according to the plans and specifications, is to be a handsome structure, two stories high, and, to use their own language, "will be an ornament to the town," to occupy the site of the present unsightly building; while the freight depot is to run parallel with the platform siding nearest the colored church, 158 feet in length. As soon as the necessary arrangements can be perfected work will begin and be prosecuted with vigor.

Look Out for Your Dogs.

Extermination of the canine tribe within the corporate limits of the city, for a while at least, seems to be one of the resolves by the town authorities, the board, in special session, last Tuesday, having passed the following resolution, which goes into effect to-day:

Resolved; That for six weeks from and after April 14th, instant, all dogs found running at large in Fayetteville and unmuzzled be destroyed by the Marshal.

For this effort to protect the people of the community, and the unsuspecting children in particular, from the ravages and terrors of mad dogs, the commissioners deserve the plaudits of the entire community, our "liking" for the canines persuading us to believe that it was the protection of human lives that the commissioners desired more than the wholesale destruction of the dogs.

SUIT FOR INSURANCE MONEY.

A New Chapter to be Added to the Famous McDougald Case.

Proceedings against the New York Life Insurance Company have been instituted by the family or administrator of Simeon Conoley, deceased, for the collection of a policy for $5,000, on the life of the murdered man. We have it upon good authority that the Insurance Company will strenuously contest the payment of this policy and fight it to the last ditch—even to the extent of a rehersal of all the testimony in this celebrated case before another court, at which time it is expected that other testimony will be adduced to fasten the crime on McDougald; who, for the present, is residing in Laruinburg and engaged in the furniture and undertaking business at that place. Those who know him best say he shares to-day but little of the pleasures and past time he once enjoyed with his many friends, and leads a life of almost utter seclusion, rarely ever leaving his place of business except when going back and forth to his meals. To a close observer the inroads made upon his constitution by the dreadful suspense and strain upon his physical and mental powers during his long confinement in jail, and the trial in this city, is perceptible, though to all of this must be added the fact that he has suffered among other things a violent attack of La Grippe, from the effects of which he has hardly recovered. As to the final result of the suit for the insurance money, etc., we do not care to venture a prediction thus early in the fight; suffice it to say the public will watch the proceedings with more or less anxiety. Both sides present practically an unbroken front, and the fight will no doubt be a "fight to the hilt;" McDougald, or the family of Conoley, with the verdict of the Cumberland jury at their back, while the Insurance Company alleges to have developed new and important testimony in its behalf. With the next chapter, therefore, of this noted case the public may reasonably anticipate some startling developments.

Henderson Wins the Prize.

The stout protest of the people of this community to the contrary notwithstanding, Mr. Harrison has appointed and secured the confirmation of a negro postmaster for Fayetteville, Believing this to be a white man's government, to be ruled by the whites, our people but naturally fail to appreciate this forced action of "Little Ben," cherishing at the same time, however, no ill-will for the new postmaster nor the colored people of the community, who, we may truthfully say, are recognized at home and abroad for their orderly, quiet and peaceable demeanor. Taken all in all we doubt if there is a more sturdy and thrifty class of colored people in the State, than those residing in Fayetteville, and if we are to have a colored postmater Harrison could not have singled out one who would have been more acceptable to the people of this community than B. H. Henderson. Constituting as they do nine-tenths of the rank and file of the Republican party in North Carolina, they are entitled at least to a fair division of the spoils—notwithstanding, the announcement that Henderson had received his commission from the President was the signal for a general "weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth" among many of the leading white rads in and around Fayetteville. Henderson assumed control of the office last Saturday, and his assistants will be his sister, Wm. Henderson, his cousin, and W. P. Wemyss, former acting postmaster.

Caned.

On Saturday morning last a few of the many friends of Mr. J. H. Myrover in this city presented him with a handsome gold-headed cane, as an expression of the high esteem and personal regard in which he is held by them and the community—the home of his childhood.

The presentation speech was made by Hon. Geo. M. Rose, whose eloquence and pathos has so many times thrilled the hearts of the people of this town and section, and who on this occasion proved himself truly the Demosthenese of the hour, while Mr. Myrover, the recognized Bayard of the rostrum of the Cape Fear section, spoke feelingly and felicitously beautiful in accepting the cane as an emblem of friendship, upon which he could lean in after years, when time in its onward flight shall have whitened his wrinkled brow and old age bended his fragile frame.

The event was a happy one to the participants, and will doubtless be closely associated with the happiest recollections of Mr. Myrover's eventful career.

Fayetteville Presbytery.

Revs. D. D. McBryde, of Little River Academy, and Joseph Evans, of Robeson, Capt. Wm. Black, of Maxton, L. Shaw, of St. Paul's, and others whose names the reporter could not get, passed through the city Tuesday en route to Pittsboro, to be present and participate in the exercises of Fayetteville Presbytery, which convenes at that place this week. The Fayetteville church will be represented by Rev. Jno. M. Rose of this place.

Fruit Crop Outlook.

Despite tho recent cold snap the outlook is propitious for a good all-round fruit crop throughout the Cape Fear and Pee Dee sections this year. Col. Wharton J. Green, who is largely interested in horticulture, reports the outlook bright at Tokay, where he has under cultivation fruits of almost every known kind and variety.

Finishing Touches.

The interior of the drug stores of the city are just now receiving the finishing touches of the painter's brush, preparatory to getting things in apple-pie shape for the dispensation of limeades, soda-water and other palatable beverages for cooling the thirsty soul during the approaching hot summer days.

Religious Notes.

There will be divine service at St. Thomas's Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Bishop Watson will preach and deliver the rite of confirmation. Usual service on Sunday, the 24th, by Dr. Huske.

April 28th the Date for the Fife-Needham Bible Conference in Fayetteville.

Evangelist Fife arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon from Oxford, and authorizes the announcement that he and Rev. Geo. C. Needham will conduct a Bible Conference in the Presbyterian Church of Fayetteville, commencing on Thursday afternoon April 28th, at 4 o'clock, continuing four days. All ministers and christian workers of all denominations are cordially invited to attend and contribute their part to the salvation of souls and the diffusion of the religion of Jesus Christ. Of the Bible Conference held in Wilmington last week, the Messenger of the 9th inst. contains the following:

We, the pastors and preachers of Wilmington, N. C., and vicinity, having been in attendance at the conference for Bible study in our city, April 3-8, under Brethren W. P. Fife and Geo. C. Needham, the evangelists, and having heard the faithful exposition of God's Word, the preaching of the doctrine of grace and the honors put upon the Spirit and the Word, from this first Bible conference in our Southland, have received such help, blessing and light, that we commend these brethren and their Bible conference to all the people and cities in our Southland.

Busy Bodies.

Communities like individuals have their afflictions. Some have more to bear than others, but none are entirely free from a class of persons whose controlling idea is mischief of some sort. Any community is to be pitied where busy-bodies exist in force. Their delight is to keep things stirred up. Peace is not their element. They are ill at ease when everything moves on smoothly. There is peace in strife and confusion. They are apparently the most innocent, amiable and harmless of people; so kind, attentive and interested in the welfare of others. They are ever on the lookout, and nothing bad escapes their observation. One of their chief characteristics is a persistent picking to find out what one has to say about others. And when they succeed in getting a neighborhood at war one with another they rejoice over their victory. Having reached their full glory they look on with complaceney and feast upon family quarrels and personal ill-feelings. One has enough to do to attend to his own matters properly, without going out of his way to take upon himself unnecessary and uncalled for work, alike hurtful to himself and others. It is well to be be busy, provided it is in the way of good, and society would be vastly benefitted by having more of this kind of busy-bodies.—Wilson Mirror.

Like everything else the genius of his pen touches, Brother Blount expresses it admirably. But for the average "busybody," or "tattler," as some would express it, we have only the supremest contempt. They are truly "excerescences upon the body politic," eyesores to manhood and self-respect in every community, and a stench in the nostrils of civilization. Such people are generally lazy, worthless loafers, and are never happier than when repeating some base and malicious falsehood from a venomous tongue. Indeed, such people are as poisonous to the morals of a community as the tooth of a rattle-snake is to human flesh, and should be shunned and scorned as you would a serpent. Few communities indeed are free of such pests, and to find them out you only have to keep your eyes open and ears pricked.

Died of Hydrophobia.

Mr. Reuben Johnson, residing about one mile from Fayetteville on the Wilmington road, died last Saturday with what his physicians pronounced a genuine case of hydrophobia, from the effects of a dog bite received about nine weeks ago. At the time, the dog showed no evident signs of being mad, and Mr. Johnson feared no serious results, and it was not until about three days prior to his death that he discovered the awful fate awaiting him, when he was suddenly seized with a violent spasm which stubbornly defied all medical skill, yielding only to hypnotic treatment, until the end came.

Rapidly Improving.

The many friends of State Senator Williams in Cumberland County and throughout the State will learn with pleasure that he is rapidly recovering from the serious injuries sustained sometime ago by falling timbers. The wounds are rapidly healing and the Senator talks freely with visitors and is in high spirits all the while.

The former residence of Col. Wm. Alderman in Gray's Creek township, this County, was destroyed by fire last Sunday, entailing a loss of possibly $2.000. The house, we are told, was partially insured.

The Cases Are Parallel.

If the Government can issue countless millions of greenbacks "without taxing anybody one cent," why not let the States and counties issue some? If it is a good thing for the national government to do, why not let the State and county governments also do it?

People and Their Movements.

Miss Kate Fairley, of Manchester, is visiting friends in Fayetteville this week.

Miss Minnie Bryan, of Newberne, is visiting Mrs. Jno B. Broadfoot, on Haymount.

Mr. E. A. Breece, an attache of this office, spent a few days at his old home in Lumberton last week.

Mr. Chas. Pearce returned from a business trip to Sampson county this week, in the interest of McMillan Brothers.

Messrs. J. K. Williams and R. L. Holmes, of Wilmington, were registered at the Hotel LaFayette Tuesday.

Phil Wright leaves next week for Carolina Beach, whither he goes to arrange for opening the Oceanic Hotel for the coming season.

Mr. John Lee, of this place, has secured a position as "news-butcher" on the Richmond & Danville line between Greensboro and Winston-Salem.

Mr. R. B. Monroe, of Cheraw, S. C., was a welcome visitor at the OBSERVER office Monday, and reports politics in the Palmetto State at high-water mark.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Walton, who have been paying a visit to Mrs. Walton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Moore, on Haymount, returned to Morganton Tuesday.

Mr. J. W. White, of Roseboro, passed through Fayetteville Tuesday on his return from Greensboro, where he has been spending a month at the Keeley Institute.

Mrs. M. J. Southerland left last Saturday for Savannah, Ga., whither she goes to join her son, Mr. Charley Southerland, who will hereafter make that city his home, with the firm of McMillan Brothers.

Mr. J. H. McEachern, one of the largest cotton planters in Robeson county, spent the day here Monday. He will reduce his cotton acreage this year 30 per cent., and says many others in his section are following his example. A wise conclusion.

To Be Hung, May 13th

Newberne Journal.]

Governor Holt has issued an order of execution for John Cox, of Jones county, to be hanged at Trenton on Friday, May 13th, for the murder of Wm. Sutton, col., of the same county three years ago.

It will be remembered that Cox, having committed the murder, ran away and after the lapse of a long time was captured in Mississippi, brought to Trenton, tried and convicted in the Superior Court, and an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, but it found no error in the case as tried in the lower court and the papers in the case were turned over to the Governor Tuesday and he acted on them as stated.

Luxury of Modern Railway Travel.

Christian Leader.]

A recent trip over the Royal Blue Line, Washington to New York and return, impressed the writer most strongly as to the wonderful possibilities regarding speed and luxury in railway travel in America. Having been in nearly every State in the Union, and over a large part of Europe, we are prepared to feel ourselves acquainted with railway transportation thoroughly, and while in no way failing to recognize the splendid service furnished the public by the great railway lines of America, the writer believes that he is stating nothing too strongly in saying that in his judgment there is not a service in the world which, taken as a whole, will compare with the famous Royal Blue Line, composed of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, the Philadelphia & Reading and Baltimore & Ohio railroads. Not only is the time made between these points, via this line, the quickest ever made between New York and Washington, but, with a road-bed that is simply perfect and an equipment so luxurious as to leave nothing to be desired, it furnishes no doubt the finest service of any line in the world.

Every train via the Royal Blue Line is vestibuled from end to end, and consists not only of the most luxurious parlor and sleeping cars ever made by the Pullman Palace Car Company, but also of palatial day coaches far superior to the parlor cars run on many lines, with smoking compartments fitted up with chairs and sofas, the same as in drawing room cars. Although the service is so superior and the time so quick, on no train are there any extra charges. To those who desire accommodations in the drawing room or sleeping cars only the regular additional charges are asked, and on all of the trains vestibuled day coaches are run open to the public without any extra charges whatever. The dining car service attached to the principal trains is in keeping with the splendid character of the line's services and the cuisine equal to the best hotels of the country. It is no wonder that the Royal Blue line has attained phenomenal popularity, and it has not attained its position by any other reason than that it deserved it. It is so incomparably superior to any service ever inaugurated between New York and Washington that it would be surprising if the public did not patronize it so liberally; certainly no one who wants the best should take any other, and when it is considered that for the finest service in the world no additional charges of any description are required, it should receive, as it does, the endorsement and patronage of the public.

Rheumatism was so bad that James Irvin, of Savannah, could hardly walk from pain in his shoulder and joints of his legs. P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium) was resorted to and Irvin is well and happy.

Abbott's East Indian Corn Paint removes quickly all corns, bunions and warts without pain.

A prominent Railroad Superintendent living in Savannah, one suffering for yea rs from Malaria and General Debility, says, on having recovered his health by the use of P. P. Thrashed a Man Twice His Size.

The other day a small, harmless looking man entered a New York street car and accidentally trod on the toes of a big six-footer. He apologized, but the six-footer wasn't satisfied. He talked for some time, and finally invited the little man to leave the car and settle the matter on the sidewalk. Greatly to his astonishment, the latter accepted. Those who witnessed the contest say that it didn't last long, but that the big fellow had to be carried home in an ambulance, while his diminutive antagonist walked away with a cheerful smile. And so it is with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They're not half as big as most of their rivals, but they do their work quietly and thoroughly. For sick headache, billiousness, constipation, dyspepsia, etc., there is nothing like them. They are the only Liver Pills absolutely sold on trial! Your money back, if they don't give satisfaction!

A Good Reason for Living.

Ladies, do you realize that when you buy of the retailer, you are paying THREE unnecessary profits? The manufacturer sells to the commission house, the latter to the jobber, and the jobber in turn sells to the retail merchant. Swinton's Specific FOR DYSPEPSIA.

This unfailing remedy for Dyspepsia of the most chronic type, is the result of many years' medical research of one of the most noted and eminent medical scholars of the period, Dr. La Verne Swinton. Patent and proprietary nostrums have had no more bitter opponent than this most eminent physician, for the simple reason that the same dose is invariably prescribed to the sufferer, no matter what the temperament of the patient, and no matter what the peculiarities of the disease, and this, too, in the face of the claims that such remedies will cure a majority of known diseases.

Dr. Swinton realized fully to what extent Dyspepsia, whether mild or chronic by impoverishing and poisoning the blood, because the progenitor of numerous diseases, and therefore sought diligently for years to discover its true specific. In this he was successful, but in prescribing his wonderful discovery, he never overlooked the great medical truth that the symptoms in each case, the temperamental differences, and even the habits and occupation of the sufferer, required not only a difference in the prescription of his remedy, but also demanded supplemental treatment and dietary directions, varying widely in different cases. THE SWINTON MEDICAL CO. send in connection with this celebrated Specific for Dyspepsia, a complete treatise by the Doctor, which gives explicit directions to the sufferer, so that he may not only intelligently use the remedy, but also properly regulate the diet, and properly self-administer the supplemental prescriptions suited to the case.

This is Medical Treatment and not Quackery

Do not be robbed of your money and your hopes for restored health by alleged panacea, which while comparatively harmless will cure nothing.

SWINTON'S SPECIFIC is sold by all druggists in $1.00 packages. We are introducing it ourselves in this territory, before placing it on sale with your leading pharmacists, and will send single packages to any address upon receipt of 50 cents. Each package contains the medical treatise of Dr. Swinton, giving dietary directions and supplemental prescriptions. Address

A leading physician in New York, and director of one of the large hospitals, says, February 8, 1890, He has made use of the P. P. P. sent him, and was pleased to say P. P. P. proved efficacious in a number of cases, and adds, it is no more than he should have anticipated from the satisfactory combination of such well known drugs.

A prominent railway superintendent of Savannah (name given on application) says he was crippled by a disease in legs and arms, powerless to walk or eat without assistance, having lost the use of his limbs by rheumatism, malaria, dyspepsia, etc. Physicians here sent him to New York and they returned him here, and he was as complete a wreck as one could be and live. A course of P. P. P. has made him a well man.

P. P. P. is known among physicians in the South for its various and wonderful cures as the great blood purifier of the age.

Important to Ladies.

SIR:—I made use of your PHILOTOKEN with my last child, in order to procure a safe and easy travail. I used it about two months before my expected time, until I was taken sick, and I had a very quick and easy confinement. Nothing occurred to protract my convalescence, and I got about in less time than was usual for me. I think it a medicine that should be used by every expectant mother, for should they but try it as I have they would never again be without it at such times.

I am yours respectfully,
MRS. ELIZABETH DIX.

Any merchant or druggist can procure RISLEY'S PHILOTOKEN for $1 a bottle.

Electropoise (TRADE MARK)

SIMPLE IN CONSTRUCTION, PERMANENT IN DURATION. EASILY APPLIED. ITS SKILLFUL USE QUICKLY LEARNED.

The Electropoise is an Instrument for the CURE OF DISEASE WITHOUT MEDICINE.

BASED on new theories of the cause and cure of disease, it deals with the electrical and magnetic conditions of the body and the gases surrounding it in the atmosphere controlling these conditions at will. IT IS NOT ELECTRICITY. DISEASE is simply impaired vitality. The Electropoise constantly adds to the vitality, and only assists NATURE, IN NATURE'S WAY, to throw off the trouble.

Land for Sale.

By virtue of an order of the Superior Court of Cumberland County, N. C., made in a proceeding to sell land to pay debts due by the estate of Holly Gainey, I as Commissioner will, on Monday, May 2nd, 1892, at 11 o'clock at the Court-House in Fayetteville, expose to sale by public auction the lands of said Holly Gainey, situate in Flea Hill township in said county, containing about 300 acres (subject, however, to the widow's dower which has been duly assigned).

TERMS: The purchaser will be required to pay one-fourth cash, and give notes for the balance, to be paid in two equal installments in six and twelve months with interest at eight per cent. from sale.

Youth.

In the Ocean of Time there's a wonderful isle
Embowered in roses and beautiful trees,
Where fountains of Fancy all troubles beguile
And the incense of morning perfumes every breeze;
There Pleasure's gay banners illumine hope's bowers,
And blossoms of Beauty abound everywhere;
There Love rules a Queen, of the glad, golden hours,
And Life is a dream without sorrow or care.

But, alas! on that Island, no mortal abides
And the currents flow swift by its perilous shore;
No vessel can anchor in Time's swelling tides,
They must sail and pass on to return never more,
Do you ask me the name of this beautiful land,
That realm of delight and pleasure and truth?
Look back o'er life's billows toward Memory's strand,
Behold it afar—'tis the fair Isle of Youth.
—Larry Chittenden, "Poet Ranchman."

Success.

The stoutest ship may breast the gale
And still be driven back.
What though to reach the port she fail,
Shall we declare she could not sail
Because she had to tack?

When storms belate and plagues impede,
When aches and ills betide,
Ambition's goal may not be won—
Yet hast thou bravely, nobly done
If thou hast bravely tried.

"He nobly does who nobly dares,"
When trials sore oppress,
Whose perseverance naught can shake,
Though failure follows in his wake,
His failure is success.

The fiercest battles are to fight,
The strongest forts to scale.
Sometimes the bravest heroes fall,
Sometimes the truest lives of all
Are lived by ones who fail.

Hints on Potato Culture.

In "Howe's Potato Manual" for 1872 these points are summarized after experience and observations: Potatoes seem to do best in warm loam, sandy or gravelly soil. The land should be thoroughly fitted to a good depth, though not deeper than the soil really is. If commercial fertilizer be used, as it should be in preference to yard manure, which can be better used on other crops, thoroughly mix it with soil, or it will do little good, and perhaps actual harm, because of its strength. If not using a planter, open the furrows and sow fertilizer, then follow with cultivator closed up as narrow as possible, before dropping seed.

Plant as early as the season will permit—just as soon as the soil is dried off sufficiently to work well without packing. Before the plants get up, and while they are full a half inch from the surface, go over the field with a weeder, if you have one, and the best substitute if you have not. Either a heavy brush or a very light smoothing harrow will do very well. Repeat the operation after plants are fully up, one or two inches high, and again once or twice as circumstances require, until plants are eight or ten inches tall. Cultivate them, throwing a little loose soil up around the plants with winged teeth, then hand-hoe only as necessary to keep down a few stray weeds that have escaped the previous processes. Kill all weeds while they are young, and keep the piece clean till digging-time, and that final work on the crop will be correspondingly easy.

Virginia Notes.

Nashville Advocate.]

The fruit-tree buds continue very quiescent, and woods and gardens give little tokens of spring, which, in date, begins to-morrow. The prediction of "ground-hog's day" is being verified, and the people will have more faith than ever in the traditional weather-wisdom of that animal. These creatures make very nice pets when captured in the nest and brought up under shelter; are gentle, good-tempered, and innocently playful. I saw some during the civil war (in 1863 I think). As summer came on the instinct of burrowing caused one of them to make his way clandestinely under the back porch and dug a big hole in the earth, of which he had no need, as they were sheltered in a snug barrel in a closet, with plenty of hay or other lining for warmth and softness. Like a beaver, which in captivity builds a dam in a dry courtyard, this unreasoning animal provides when he has no use for it what he would need were he in a state of nature in the fields.

Fertilizer for Onions.

J. J. H. Gregory, one of Massachusetts' progressive seedmen, says of nitrate of soda on onions:

"I have made use of this fertilizer on my onions for several years past, but have never depended on it alone for the crop. My plan is to plough in about eight cords of good barn-manure and rake or harrow in 1,000 to 1,500 pounds of onion fertilizer before planting my seed, and when the crop begins to bottom to scatter 200 to 300 pounds of nitrate of soda to the acre and slide it in. The effect of the nitrate on the crop will be visible in a few days.

Preventing Potato Rot.

In a report of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Association C. T. Fox told of an interesting experiment made with a view of checking the potato rot. One half of the potatoes devoted to this experiment had the tops cut off and removed as soon as they showed any signs of the rot, and the other half remained uncut. On digging the crop, all the potatoes from the treated portion of the field were found to be "perfectly sound, while those from the other portion were unfit for use."

A New Breed of Domestic Animals.

New Orleans Picayune.]

Professor Harkness, of the San Francisco Academy of Science, is conducting an experiment with the object of adding a new and valuable breed of domestic animals to the wealth of the world by crossing American bison with neat cattle. It is said that the cross breed gives a fecund animal, and Prof. Harkness hopes to procure a breed that will perpetuate some of the valuable characteristics of the rapidly-disappearing bison.

Planting Cabbages.

It has been reported, as a result of an experiment in one of the United States stations, that if cabbages are slightly tilted over with the plow in the fall it produces a tendency to make them have larger heads. If the cabbages are planted shallow, says Dr. H. L. Bailey, of Cornell, and earthed up, the percentage of large and heavy heads is much greater.

"ALBEMARLE."

We are pleased to announce to our friends and the public generally that we are now able to supply a long-felt want. We can now sell you for much less money than you have been paying for the best quality of flour. Until now we have been paying too much for Patent flour in proportion to the price of Straight flour. Order a sample sack of ALBEMARLE FLOUR, and if it is not as good as any flour that you ever used, it will not cost you anything.

AS GOOD FLOUR AS IS MADE

Remember the name, "ALBEMARLE." A cut of the mill and the name of the miller on each and every sack.

To merchants who will handle this flour in lots, we will give the "big end" of our profits to enable them to sell at same price that we do.

We have straight flour made at the same mill, branded "GOLDEN SHEAF," which gives great satisfaction to those who use this grade of flour.

We always have a good stock of these flours on hand, and the quality is always uniform.
